PRES. HARDING POISONED--CONDITION SERIOUS

PTOMAINE POISONING ON ALASKAN TRIP WEAKENS HIS HEART

After Consultation of Physicians at San Francisco at 8 O'clock This Morning the President's Entire Pacific Coast Program Was Ordered Cancelled

Illness First Developed Week Ago and Appeared to Come Simultaneously With a Small Epidemic Among Members Official Party Aboard the "Henderson"

(By United Press)

San Francisco, July 30.—President Harding, taken ill, has suffered a serious turn for the worse, following the illness that attacked him in Seattle. Serious heart symptoms have developed. After a consultation of physicians here early this morning, the president's entire Pacific program has been cancelled. Four physicians are consulting upon Mr. Harding's case.

Specialists Are Called

San Francisco, July 30.—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, head of Leland Stanford university, and former head of the American Medical Association, a noted stomach specialist, and Dr. Cooper, San Francisco, heart specialist, were summoned by Dr. Charles E. Sawyer and Dr. Joel T. Boone, the president's personal physicians. After a long consultation Dr. Sawyer issued the following statement:

"Because of the symptoms which have arisen during the day, indicating complications in the case of the president, a consultation of physicians has been called. After this has been concluded, bulletins will be issued regularly for the information of the public."

President's Secretary in Statement

George B. Christian, the president's secretary, then issued a statement cancelling Mr. Harding's entire California program, announcing he had notified local committees at Los Angeles, Santiago and other points the president was to visit, saying the chief executive would be unable to carry out his program. President Harding is somewhat concerned about the serious turn his illness has taken, but is in cheerful spirits. The president's illness took a somewhat sudden turn for the worse a few hours before it became known that cancellation of the California program would be necessary. Dr. Sawyer had stated to newspaper men that the president had shown decided improvement after a refreshing Sunday rest.

Dr. Sawyer in Statement

Dr. Sawyer, at that time, said there were three stages in the disorder from which Mr. Harding was suffering. The first stage, he said, was marked by weakness, which was very easily thrown off, the second stage being exhaustion, requiring a longer rest, while the third stage was prostration, in which considerable time was required for development of symptoms of the effect of toxic condition of the blood. General Sawyer said at that time that he expected to know by Monday noon just which stage the president was in, indicating he was not worried. Heart symptoms developed with surprising suddenness late Sunday evening, causing Dr. Sawyer and Dr. Boone to decide to call in the other physicians, a decision which was announced at 11 p. m.

Mrs. Harding remained at the president's bedside until an early hour this morning, when she was ordered to bed by General Sawyer, who declared he did not want two patients on his hands.

Mrs. Harding had earlier in the evening expressed the utmost confidence that the president would be all right in a day or two, and was cheerful. She is worried now, however.

General Sawyer is trying to reassure both Mrs. Harding and the president himself, as much as possible, because he does not wish to have the latter worry himself into a fever.

Sawyer, at an early hour this morning, said there had been no change, and that the president was fully conscious of the nature of his illness, and that everyone was hopeful it would yield promptly to treatment.

No decision has been reached as to the time the president will return to Washington. Neither has it been decided whether he will go through the canal or by rail. General Sawyer said it would be better for him to go by rail, rather than subject himself to the intense heat of the Canal Zone.

All plans regarding a return, however, are being held in abeyance until the president's condition can be cleared up.

Two Specialists Refuse to Talk

Doctors Wilbur and Cooper left the presidential suite shortly after 2 a. m. Both refused to say a word regarding the result of the consultation. General Sawyer thereupon returned to his room, leaving Dr. Boone on watch nearby but not in the presidential room. Dr. Sawyer at that time declined to add to his first bulletin, stating that an announcement would be made this morning. The fact that Dr. Sawyer went to his room and the other physicians left was taken as an encouraging sign.

When Illness Developed

The illness from which the president now is suffering first developed a week ago, and appeared to come simultaneously with a small epidemic among members of the official party aboard the Henderson. At that time it was blamed upon too free indulgence in crab meat. Since then, however, Dr. Sawyer has expressed the belief to the party that the sickness was due to canned goods eaten on the ship or in Alaska.

Everybody in the party recovered after calling on Dr. Sawyer or Dr. Boone. Mr. Harding, however, put in some of the hardest work of the trip following his departure from Alaska. He even passed up the fishing trip at Campbell's river, going to work for hours on speeches to be delivered on the Pacific coast.

Suffered Much Pain

All the time he was suffering from pain, but this yielded to the treatment of Dr. Sawyer by the time the party arrived in Vancouver, and the president was feeling fairly confident. He had a recurrence of the attack in Vancouver due to the nervous strain of the big day, but next morning as the ship approached Seattle he appeared better, and said he thought he would get through the day with no trouble.

All the president's efforts to keep faith with those who expected to hear him in California were unavailing, however, since the turn for the turn for the worse and development of heart symptoms made it necessary to cancel the entire California program, including the foreign relations speech to have been delivered here Tuesday night, a speech at Los Angeles and Santiago, and a visit to Cataline Island. He is confined to his room in the Palace hotel here.

No Change Since 5 A. M.

San Francisco, July 30.—At 7:30 today there had been no word from President Harding's sickroom since 5 a. m., when it was stated the president was sleeping quietly.

President Sleeping at 8:30 A. M.

San Francisco, July 30.—President Harding was still sleeping at 8:30 a. m. today, it was learned at his suite in the Palace hotel here. At that time Mrs. Harding had arisen

ASK RELIEF FOR NORTHWEST WHEAT FARMERS BY LAW

4 MORE UNITED STATES SENATORS, FARM AND PROGRESSIVE BLOCS, ASK SPECIAL SESSION

MAGNUS JOHNSON, HENRIK SHIPSTEAD, BROOKHART AND FRAZIER IN CONFERENCE

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, July 30.—Four more United States senators, members of the agricultural and progressive blocs, today requested President Harding to call a special session of congress to provide relief for Northwest wheat farmers.

Senators Magnus Johnson, Henrik Shipstead, Smith W. Brookhart and Lynn J. Frazier, meeting here, were concerned over the illness of the chief executive, and expressed best wishes for his speedy recovery along with their insistence upon a special session.

Senators Brookhart of Iowa and Frazier of North Dakota intended to leave last night after addressing a trade union assembly, but delayed their departure to consider the agricultural emergency. Senators Johnson and Shipstead cancelled other engagements for the day to confer with their colleagues.

The quartet of progressives hopes to get assistance from other senators and create such a demand for a special session that the chief executive will act as soon as his present incapacitation permits.

If congress meets, it will be asked to create an emergency marketing commission to fix a minimum price on wheat, which will represent the cost of production plus a reasonable profit.

FRANCE WILL PAY U. S. TEN MILLION INTEREST

Washington, July 30.—Announcement was made today at the treasury department that $10,000,000 in interest will be paid to this government next Tuesday by the French government on obligations given the war department in connection with the purchase of war supplies by France. The obligations have no connection with the French war debt growing out of loans made by the United States. Upon the conclusion of the war, the war department sold $400,000,000 worth of surplus war materials to France, which gave notes for the supplies.

PAN MOTOR PROPERTY TO GO UNDER HAMMER

St. Cloud, Minn., July 30.—Under an order made by District Judge J. A. Roeser, Edward E. Clark, receiver of the Pan Motor company, will on Wednesday open bids for the property of the company, which is valued on the books at $2,000,000. Report on the bids will be made to Judge Roeser Thursday, and if none is considered satisfactory the court may order that new bids be asked for.

NEGRO IS HUNG FOR MURDER

Waco, Tex., July 30.—Roy Mitchell, negro, was hung here today for the murder of Mrs. Ethel Denecamp. Before going to the gallows he confessed killing not only Mrs. Denecamp but also Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker and Homer Turk.

HENRY FORD IS 60 YEARS OLD TODAY

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—Henry Ford, maker of automobiles and the world's richest man, is 60 years old today.

Twenty years ago, on his fortieth birthday, he was a poor man.

FOURTH OF A SERIES OF MASS MEETINGS FOR A SPECIAL SESSION

(By United Press)
Wheaton, Minn., July 30.—The fourth of a series of farmers' mass meetings to demand a special session of congress will be held at Morris tonight.

One thousand farmers at Sisseton, S. D., Sunday afternoon adopted resolutions demanding that the president call a special session and that an agricultural commission be named to fix prices on wheat on the basis of production cost plus a fair profit.

The meetings are the outgrowth of a gathering here last week of farmers of Traverse county and adjoining communities. A committee was named to call meetings in every county in the Northwest to create a widespread demand for a special session. F. W. Murphy, former president of the Minnesota State Fair board, was a member of the committee which pushed the group's initiatory meetings.

NORTH DAKOTANS ASK WHEAT BELT MEETING

Fargo, N. D., July 30.—A state wide grain growers' meeting scheduled to be held in Fargo the morning of Wednesday, Aug. 1, for the purpose of passing resolutions asking congress to revive the United States Grain corporation that farmers of the wheat belt may obtain a price for wheat that will insure a profit over and above the cost of production was forecast tonight by Congressman George M. Young of Valley City. The meeting will be the forerunner of another to be held later by grain growers in the entire wheat belt, the most important wheat congress ever conducted in the west, Congressman Young said. The time and place of this national meeting will probably be arranged at the meeting in Fargo Wednesday.

ST. CLOUD VETERANS HOSPITAL WORK BEGINS

St. Cloud, July 30.—Excavating for the Veterans bureau hospital at St. Cloud, has begun and actual building construction will be started in a few days, it was announced by the Carter-Halls-Aldinger construction company, Minneapolis, awarded the contract by the United States government. Their bid on the project was $422,637. The hospital project includes 12 buildings of fire-proof construction.

VILLA LEAVES FORTUNE PUT AT $3,500,000

Mexico City, July 30.—Francisco Villa left a fortune of 7,000,000 pesos (approximately $3,500,000) secreted in various places, according to dispatch published by El Grafico here.

The hoard, made up of the loot of Villa's bandit days, includes money and gold and silver bars, it was said. Men employed by Villa on his ranch made statements revealing the existence of the hidden treasure.

Search for the buried fortune scattered in a number of secret hiding places was believed hopeless, since the bandit chief did not divulge its location before his assassination.

PATRICK CONFESSES TO KILLING WIFE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30.—Patrick Coyne, tortured by the loss of his legs and memories of a death struggle with his 18-year old bride, whom he murdered, today confessed the crime.

The cripple, a patient in a hospital here, told of the shooting of his girl wife after a scuffle in their honeymoon cottage at Port Perry. He said he had been reprimanding her for lying in bed and neglecting him. The wife's nude body was found in the locked cottage a few hours after a freight train had cut off Coyne's legs.

RESOLUTIONS VOICE APPRECIATION OF THE EDITORS HERE

BRAINERD CITIZENS, CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS, TOURIST PARK, ETC. PRAISED

BREEZY POINT, CAPTAIN AND MRS. W. H. FAWCETT HIGHLY COMMENDED

Resolutions

Adopted by the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association at their summer outing at Brainerd and Breezy Point July 25 to 28:

Whereas the annual summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association for 1923 has provided a most delightful and entertaining outing.

Be It Resolved that the sincere thanks of the association be tendered to the officials of the City of Brainerd and County of Crow Wing, the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association and the hospitable and public spirited citizens who by their generous co-operation with the enterprising newspapermen of their city have made possible the program of entertainment that has just been completed.

To the Northern Pacific Railway officials who so courteously conducted the members of our party through their enormous shops and so carefully explained the system employed in their work and to the officials of the Northwest Paper Company whose plant gave to the editors a splendid idea of the processes of making print paper, we extend our thanks and appreciation of their efforts.

In no uncertain terms this association wishes to express its appreciation of the entertainment provided by Captain Billy Fawcett and his charming wife at their palatial summer resort "Breezy Point". No more pleasant afternoon and evening could have been imagined than that spent on Friday at their wonderful summer home and the members here assembled strongly urge that at the proper time this association consider a return visit and a longer stay.

This Association wishes to commend the citizens of Brainerd on their progressiveness in having established so comfortable a tourist camp as that which we are honored by assisting in dedicating at this meeting. Brainerd realizes the advantages to be derived in Northern Minnesota by treating the visitors in a manner that will send them back to their home communities boasting of the surrounding territory. The wonderful fish fry which has been enjoyed by our members was indeed a treat and to the committee in charge and the State Game and Fish commission who donated the fish, we extend special thanks.

The efficient work of our president E. H. Dent and our tireless, always working, resourceful, energetic, permanent secretary Doc Rutledge for their part in making this outing the success that it undoubtedly has been is to be especially commended.

Tourist Park Dedication

At the dedication of the new tourist park of Brainerd, the festivities started with a fish fry, followed by a band concert by the Brainerd Municipal band and a program with former Mayor R. A. Beise presiding.

The speakers included Mayor Con O'Brien, Carl Wright park commissioner, R. R. Wise, Mrs. Emma Harwood editor of the "Reporter" of Roosevelt, H. Z. Mitchell who read the resolutions adopted, and Henry I. Cohen, in charge of Sunday fishing parties. Oscar H. Smith, commissioner of immigration, wired his regrets at not being able to be present. He congratulated Brainerd on its fine park. A. A. White of St. Paul who donated the park site was also unable to be present.

A novelty introduced was taking tourists of various states on a minute's notice from the large group encamped and calling on them for short talks. The responses they gave were wonderfully effective, each praising the park and expressing their appreciation of the free gas, the ranges, free hot and cold water shower baths, beautiful scenery and many other conveniences in evidence. ### RUMORS OF MASSACRE IN SIBERIA REPORTS THAT 100 WERE KILLED

(By United Press)

Nome, Alaska, July 30.—Rumors of a massacre in Siberia in which approximately 100 persons were killed were brought here today by Captain Hammer of the schooner Silverwater. The alleged massacre took place within a few hundred miles of the North Cape, he said. Arrival today of the United States revenue cutter Bear was awaited for verification of the rumor.

tourists have registered at the park, a high water mark day recording 300.

The impromptu speakers included Rev. Louis Jacobson of Sioux City, Iowa, head of one of its largest churches. Dressed in his coveralls he looked like any other tourist. He gave an eloquent address which electrified his hearers and pleaded for that spirit of neighborliness in this world which would redeem it and make it what it was intended to be. In the old days 10 miles was the limit of neighborliness, but now with the telephone and automobile, the limit stretched to a hundred miles.

By this time the editors were sitting up and taking notice. The next man up was A. L. Dunton of Dixon, Illinois, who told several witty stories and praised the park.

G. R. Sherman of Minot, N. D., is a former station agent and well known to I. C. Strout. He told of the wonderful advertising the Brainerd camp is getting and of his hearing about it while journeying away out west. "You don't want to miss seeing the Brainerd camp", one tourist would tell the other.

F. F. Spencer of Circleville, Kansas, happened to be a school superintendent and he gave a most comprehensive talk that took equally well.

And then, to cap the climax, there was brought forth a tourist, a fellow editor, E. K. Pittman, editor of the Northwood, Iowa, Anchor. He gave a most scholarly address on the spur of the moment. He expressed his appreciation of the courtesies and attentions shown him at the park and also that he could meet on such friendly terms with an editorial association he had no knowledge was in the vicinity until he was led up to talk.

Mrs. Frank Yelton of Billings, Montana, was the last speaker and was for a time nonplussed, begging the announcer to speak for her. The latter said he would introduce to the assemblage the first woman on earth who had refused to talk. That nettled the little lady and she came back and told the people that they were from Billings, she, husband and baby boy, and were on their way to Escanaba, Michigan, and were glad to be with friends. They liked Brainerd and the tourist park.

The house and social committee of the Brainerd Civic & Commerce association, with Henry Hoffman as chairman, not alone fed all the editors, but a large group of Brainerd people. The fish were excellent, having been cleaned and boned by Sam Engbretson and Henry Hoffman.

The chefs for the fry were Andy Gierick and Bob Duerr and the way they performed their task should make them eligible to marriage within 48 hours. Editorially speaking, it seems that Andy and Bob with their cooking qualifications make two of the most admirable all around men in Brainerd. Many a plate was passed up for a second helping.

So many people helped to make the editorial convention a success that a special article will follow covering this. To mention part now, missing some, will do an injustice to those missed.

The Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association through President H. P. Dunn expresses its heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in making the programs such a success, and is extremely grateful to the Northern Pacific railway company. The Northwest Paper Company, Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett, the Echo stock farm, city and county officials,

RAILWAY TRAINS KILL 43 PERSONS, AND INJURE MANY

MOST OF CASUALTIES OCCURRED WHEN TRAINS HIT AUTOS ON GRADE CROSSINGS

ENGINEER DUFFY, 36 YEARS WITHOUT ACCIDENT, STRIKES CAR, 3 CHILDREN KILLED

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)

Forty-three persons were killed and several injured Sunday and early today when struck by speeding railroad trains.

Most of the casualties occurred when trains crashed into automobiles on grade crossings.

A single train, the Pennsylvania "New Yorker" from St. Louis to New York, killed four at Highland, Ill., and nine at Liggett, Ind., and two were killed at Columbus, Ind., by another train, making a total of fifteen in Illinois and Indiana.

Four persons were killed when their automobile stalled in front of an express train on Long Island. Other deaths from similar accidents were:

Chicago 3; Gainesville, Ga., and Poplar Bluffs, Mo., 4 each; Glassboro, N. J. 3; California, Wadesboro, N. C., and Augusta, Kan., two each; Atlanta, Ga., Castleton Corners, Vt., and Detroit, Michigan, and Racine, Wis., one each.

PICKS 3 BODIES FROM HIS ENGINE

Terre Haute Ind., July 30.—For 36 years Glenn E. Duffy of Terre Haute has been a railroad engineer. For 25 years he has been an engineer.

In all those years he never had an accident until Sunday.

Sunday he picked the bodies of three children from the pilot of his locomotive and helped with the removal of 10 other bodies from the debris of automobiles wrecked by his train, the "New Yorker," crack Pennsylvania limited running between St. Louis and New York.

Today he was white and shaken, after a sleepless night.

"The first thing I saw," he said, speaking of the crash at Liggett, Ind., near where nine were killed, "was that the car was full of women and children. In that other accident down at Highland, Ill., where my train struck an automobile and killed four, had been on my mind all evening. I was standing in the cab with one hand on the brake valve and the other on the whistle cord. But I knew when I saw how fast the car was coming that if the driver didn't stop the car we would hit it."

Duffy's voice trembled as he spoke of his son about 12 years old.

"Just the size of one body I took off the pilot at Highland," he muttered.

"We get a dozen scares a day," he continued, "but these are my first accidents." Just two weeks ago a young fellow with his girl dashed across in front of us. We didn't miss him a yard. My fireman was green as he turned to me and whispered hoarsely 'We didn't hit him'."

"Sunday is our day of dread. I never like to go out on my engine on Sunday. Every engineer feels the same way, but we go out even though we are sick or shaken from accidents. We know the road. We can't rest with someone else driving our engine. The watchword with us engineers is eternal vigilance."

BOY CIRCUS EMPLOYEE IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Marshfield, Wis., July 30.—Frank Kosmosky, aged 15, of Berlin, Wis., who is reported to have joined the Ringland-Barnum & Bailey circus at Fond Du Lac Thursday, was killed while unloading circus equipment in the yards here today. He was struck by a train. His parents arrived to take the body to Berlin.

Mexico City, July 30.—Francisco Villa left a fortune of 7,000,000 pesos (approximately $3,500,000) secreted in various places, according to dispatch published by El Graphico here.

The hoard, made up of the loot of Villa's bandit days, includes money and gold and silver bars, it was said.

Men employed by Villa on his ranch made statements revealing the existence of the hidden treasure. Search for the buried fortune scattered in a number of secret hiding places was believed hopeless, since the bandit chief did not divulge its location before his assassination.

PATRICK CONFESSES TO KILLING WIFE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30.—Patrick Coyne, tortured by the loss of his legs and memories of a death struggle with his 18-year old bride, whom he murdered, today confessed the crime.

The cripple, a patient in a hospital here, told of the shooting of his girl wife after a scuffle in their honeymoon cottage at Port Perry. He said he had been reprimanding her for lying in bed and neglecting him. The wife's nude body was found in the locked cottage a few hours after a freight train had cut off Coyne's legs.

RESOLUTIONS VOICE APPRECIATION OF THE EDITORS HERE

BRAINERD CITIZENS, CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS, TOURIST PARK, ETC. PRAISED

BREEZY POINT, CAPTAIN AND MRS. W. H. FAWCETT HIGHLY COMMENDED

Adopted by the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association at their summer outing at Brainerd and Breezy Point July 25 to 28:

Whereas the annual summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association for 1923 has proved a most delightful and entertaining outing.

Be It Resolved that the sincere thanks of the association be tendered to the officials of the City of Brainerd and County of Crow Wing, the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association and the hospitable and public spirited citizens who by their generous co-operation with the enterprising newspapermen of their city have made possible the program of entertainment that has just been completed.

To the Northern Pacific Railway officials who so courteously conducted the members of our party through their enormous shops and so carefully explained the system employed in their work and to the officials of the Northwest Paper Company whose plant gave to the editors a splendid idea of the processes of making print paper, we extend our thanks and appreciation of their efforts.

In no uncertain terms this association wishes to express its appreciation of the entertainment provided by Captain Billy Fawcett and his charming wife at their palatial summer resort "Breezy Point". No more pleasant afternoon and evening could have been imagined than that spent on Friday at their wonderful summer home and the members here assembled strongly urge that at the proper time this association consider a return visit and a longer stay.

This Association wishes to commend the citizens of Brainerd for their progressiveness in having established so comfortable a tourist camp as that which we are honored by assisting in dedicating at this meeting. Brainerd realizes the advantages to be derived in Northern Minnesota by treating the visitors in a manner that will send them back to their home communities boasting Brainerd and the outing possibilities of the surrounding territory. The wonderful fish fry which has been enjoyed by our members was indeed a treat and to the committee in charge and the State Game and Fish commission who donated the fish, we extend special thanks.

The efficient work of our president E. H. Denn and our tireless, always working, resourceful, energetic, permanent secretary Doc Rutledge for their part in making this outing the success that it undoubtedly has been is to be especially commended.

Respectfully presented:
Resolutions Committee
H. Z. MITCHELL, Bemidji
KEITH ROGERS, Park Rapids

Tourist Park Dedication

At the dedication of the new tourist park of Brainerd, the festivities started with a fish fry, followed by a band concert by the Brainerd Municipal band and a program with former Mayor R. A. Reise presiding.

The speakers included Mayor Con O'Brien, Carl Wright park commissioner, R. R. Wise, Mrs. Emma Harwood editor of the "Reporter" of Roosevelt, H. Z. Mitchell who read the resolutions adopted, and Henry L. Cohen, in charge of Sunday fishing parties. Oscar H. Smith, commissioner of immigration, wired his regrets at not being able to be present. He congratulated Brainerd on its fine park. A. A. White of St. Paul who donated the park site was also unable to be present.

A novelty introduced was taking tourists of various states on a minute's notice from the large group encamped and calling on them for short talks. The responses they gave were wonderfully effective, each praising the park and expressing their appreciation of the free gas, the ranges, free hot and cold water shower baths, beautiful scenery and many other conveniences in evidence. ### RUMORS OF MASSACRE IN SIBERIA REPORTS THAT 100 WERE KILLED

(By United Press)
Nome, Alaska, July 30.—Rumors of a massacre in Siberia in which approximately 100 persons were killed were brought here today by Captain Hammer of the schooner Silverwater. The alleged massacre took place within a few hundred miles of the North Cape, he said. Arrival today of the United States revenue cutter Bear was awaited for verification of the rumor.

tourists have registered at the park, a high water mark day recording 309.

The impromptu speakers included Rev. Louis Jacobson of Sioux City, Iowa, head of one of its largest churches. Dressed in his coveralls he looked like any other tourist. He gave an eloquent address which electrified his hearers and pleaded for that spirit of neighborliness in this world which would redeem it and make it what it was intended to be. In the old days 10 miles was the limit of neighborliness, but now with the telephone and automobile, the limit stretched to a hundred miles. By this time the editors were sitting up and taking notice. The next man up was A. L. Dunton of Dixon, Illinois, who told several witty stories and praised the park.

G. R. Sherman of Minot, N. D., is a former station agent and well known to I. C. Strout. He told of the wonderful advertising the Brainerd camp is getting and of his hearing about it while journeying away out west. "You don't want to miss seeing the Brainerd camp," one tourist would tell the other.

F. F. Spencer of Circleville, Kansas, happened to be a school superintendent and he gave a most comprehensive talk that took equally well.

And then, to cap the climax, there was brought forth a tourist, a fellow editor, E. K. Pitman, editor of the Northwood, Iowa, Anchor. He gave a most scholarly address on the spur of the moment. He expressed his appreciation of the courtesies and attentions shown him at the park and also that he could meet on such friendly terms with an editorial association he had no knowledge was in the vicinity until he was led up to talk.

Mrs. Frank Yelton of Billings, Montana, was the last speaker and was for a time nonplussed, begging the announcer to speak for her. The latter said he would introduce to the assemblage the first woman on earth who had refused to talk. That nettled the little lady and she came back and told the people that they were from Billings, she, husband and baby boy, and were on their way to Escanaba, Michigan, and were glad to be with friends. They liked Brainerd and the tourist park.

The house and social committee of the Brainerd Civic & Commerce association, with Henry Hoffman as chairman, not alone fed all the editors, but a large group of Brainerd people. The fish were excellent, having been cleaned and boned by Sam Engbretson and Henry Hoffman.

The chefs for the fry were Andy Gierick and Bob Duerr and the way they performed their task should make them eligible for marriage within 48 hours. Editorially speaking, it seems that Andy and Bob with their cooking qualifications make two of the most admirable, all around men in Brainerd. Many a plate was passed up for a second helping.

So many people helped to make the editorial convention a success that a special article will follow covering this. To mention part now, missing some, will do an injustice to those missed.

The Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association through President H. P. Dunn expresses its heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in making the programs such a success, and is extremely grateful to the Northern Pacific railway company, The Northwest Paper Company, Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett, the Echo stock farm, city and county officials, (Continued on page 4)

RAILWAY TRAINS KILL 43 PERSONS, AND INJURE MANY

MOST OF CASUALTIES OCCURRED WHEN TRAINS HIT AUTOS ON GRADE CROSSINGS

ENGINEER DUFFY, 36 YEARS WITHOUT ACCIDENT, STRIKES CAR, 3 CHILDREN KILLED

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Forty-three persons were killed and several injured Sunday and early today when struck by speeding railroad trains.

Most of the casualties occurred when trains crashed into automobiles on grade crossings.

A single train, the Pennsylvania "New Yorker" from St. Louis to New York, killed four at Highland, Ill., and nine at Liggett, Ind., and two were killed at Columbus, Ind., by another train, making a total of fifteen in Illinois and Indiana.

Four persons were killed when their automobile stalled in front of an express train on Long Island. Other deaths from similar accidents were:

Chicago 3; Gainesville, Ga., and Poplar Bluffs, Mo., 4 each; Glassboro, N. J. 3; California, Wadesboro, N. C., and Augusta, Kan., two each; Atlanta, Ga., Castleton Corners, Vt., and Detroit, Michigan, and Racine, Wis., one each.

PICKS 3 BODIES FROM HIS ENGINE

Terre Haute Ind., July 30.—For 36 years Glenn E. Duffy of Terre Haute has been a railroad. For 25 years he has been an engineer.

In all those years he never had an accident until Sunday.

Sunday he picked the bodies of three children from the pilot of his locomotive and helped with the removal of 10 other bodies from the debris of automobiles wrecked by his train, the "New Yorker," crack Pennsylvania limited running between St. Louis and New York.

Today he was white and shaken, after a sleepless night.

"The first thing I saw," he said, speaking of the crash at Liggett, Ind., near here where nine were killed, "was that the car was full of women and children. In that other accident down at Highland, Ill., where my train struck an automobile and killed four, had been on my mind all evening. I was standing in the cab with one hand on the brake valve and the other on the whistle cord. But I knew when I saw how fast the car was coming that if the driver didn't stop the car we would hit it."

Duffy's voice trembled as he spoke of his son about 12 years old.

"Just the size of one body I took off the pilot at Highland," he muttered.

"We get a dozen scares a day," he continued, "but these are my first accidents. Just two weeks ago a young fellow with his girl dashed across in front of us. We didn't miss him a yard. My fireman was green as he turned to me and whispered hoarsely 'We didn't hit him!'"

"Sunday is our day of dread. I never like to go out on my engine on Sunday. Every engineer feels the same way, but we go out even though we are sick or shaken from accidents. We know the road. We can't rest with someone else driving our engine. The watchword with us engineers is eternal vigilance."

BOY CIRCUS EMPLOYEE IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Marshfield, Wis., July 30.—Frank Kosomosky, aged 15, of Berlin, Wis., who is reported to have joined the Ringland-Barnum & Bailey circus at Fond Du Lac Thursday, was killed while unloading circus equipment in the yards here today. He was struck by a train. His parents arrived to take the body to Berlin.

AMUSEMENTS

"Thelma" at the Lyceum
The bleak hills of Norway and the great halls of ancestral estates in old England form a striking background for "Thelma", Marie Corelli's classic romance of the Norseland come to life on the screen and revealed for the first time yesterday at the Lyceum.

Jane Novak, as Thelma, the "pale little rose with a crimson heart", achieves an artistic triumph in a role which seemingly was fashioned for her alone. Miss Novak, without exaggeration, is the perfect embodiment of Marie Corelli's fictional heroine. She outdoes by far any other characterization of her career on the screen.

Imagine, for example, Miss Novak in some of the most stunning gowns ever created for use on the stage or screen! Imagine this simple little Jenny Wren of the great, open Northwest suddenly converted into a blazing bird of paradise and dominating London society by the sheer power of her beauty and charm!

The story, briefly, concerns the experiences of a beautiful Norse girl who becomes the bride of a British nobleman. London society scoffed at first but the girl triumphs by the grace of her own dignity and charm. It is big with dramatic power. It is big in romance. It is spectacular in its huge sets and lavish costuming. It is by all odds the greatest production in which Miss Novak has ever appeared. She will be shown again tonight for the last time.

Think This Over

You were created perfect as far as the source of your life power is concerned. You are bathed in life giving energy and the only thing that keeps you from using that energy to the fullest extent is a pinched nerve at the place where it leaves your backbone. Chiropractic adjustments relieve that pinched condition and you enjoy health. Just think that over. It is simple but a demonstrated truth. Why delay longer? ## REV. A. C. SMITH IN NEW POSITION

Resigns Pastorate of 1st Baptist Church to Become Assistant to Promotional Secretary

AT BAPTIST HEADQUARTERS

Many Expressions of Regret Heard on His Leaving the City of Brainerd

The Rev. Arthur C. Smith resigns pastorate of the First Baptist church of this city to accept the position as associate to Rev. E. H. Rasmussen promotional secretary at Baptist headquarters Minneapolis.

Sometime ago the Rev. Arthur C. Smith presented his resignation to his congregation to take effect September the first. Since then several efforts have been made to have him stay with his people, and a week ago at the close of the morning service a resolution was passed to ask the pastor to reconsider the action which was taken to him by a committee. At the close of the sermon the pastor realizing the anxiety of the membership to know his ultimate decision stated that it was no easy matter decide and expressing his appreciation of the kindness shown him felt that he must go. The Rev. Mr. Smith has accepted a position with the Baptist Headquarters at Minneapolis as associate secretary and field worker and will begin his work September the first.

Many expressions of regret and tender affection were made to the pastor and his family and tears filled many eyes.

The First Baptist church and the city will lose a valuable citizen and a fine preacher when Mr. Smith goes.

It is said by those who heard his sermon yesterday morning on "The Tonic of Big Things" that it was one of the best he had ever preached in Brainerd.

Mr. Smith goes on a vacation during the month of August, and will supply the pulpit of the First Baptist church, Cedar Rapids, Iowa the first two Sundays and if plans carry as now anticipated he will preach his closing sermons in this city September 2nd.

The trader rat is the common wood rat, the bushy-tailed rat of western and northern America. This rat does make a practice of leaving something in place of food, etc., that it may have stolen. This is not an intelligent act on the part of the rat, however, but is due to the fact that the rat sees the food when it is carrying bits of sticks or paper in its mouth, which it generally drops when finding the food.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Of Crow Wing County, Minn.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Board met at the court house in the City of Brainerd on July 16th, 1923 at 10 o'clock a. m.

All members present.
An appropriation of $100.00 was made out of the County Revenue Fund to the Brainerd Civic and Commerce Association to help advertise the resources of the county during the Editor's convention being held commencing the week of July 23rd, as authorized by Chapter 77, Laws of 1913.

On motion made and carried a reward of $25.00 was offered for evidence that will lead to the conviction of any person or persons dumping refuse along the public highways within the county.

The bond of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland covering county deposits in the Citizens State Bank of Brainerd was released owing to the fact that said bond had been cancelled and substituted by another.

A communication was received from the Crosby Commercial Club asking for the improvement of State Road No. 4 between Crosby and the Mississippi River bridge.

The matter was taken under advisement.

Rested Poorly in Night

Kansas City, Mo., July 30—President Harding rested very poorly last night, Dr. Hubert M. Work, secretary of the interior, said to the Kansas City Journal-Post today.

Dr. Work is with the presidential party and has been advising with other physicians during the illness of the president.

Dr. Boone Reports

San Francisco, July 30—At 5 o'clock this morning Dr. Joel T. Boone, who remained throughout the night at the president's bedside, reported that the president was sleeping quietly and had passed a fairly good night.

A statement was to be issued at 10 a. m. coast time giving the exact nature of Mr. Harding's heart symptoms, and the latest developments, Boone indicated.

Optimistic Turn

San Francisco, July 30—Physicians attending President Warren G. Harding here this morning issued an optimistic statement on his condition.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH REUNION

THE commission on unification of the Methodist Episcopal church announces that the reunion is likely to take place by the year 1925. There has been no real reason why the northern and southern branches of this church should remain apart since, for many years, the question that divided them has ceased to exist as a divisive factor.

In the general conference of 1844 the subject of slavery came up with explosive force. A member of the Baltimore conference had been expelled by that conference because he was accused of holding slaves through his wife. He lost his appeal to the general conference by a vote of 117 to 56. Efforts directed to finding a peaceable solution of the question failed, because the attention of the conference was directed to the fact that Bishop James O. Andrew had become a slave-holder by inheritance and marriage. The conference by a vote of 111 to 61 declared, "That it is the sense of this conference that Bishop Andrew desist from the exercise of his office so long as this impediment remains." The southern delegates presented a protest and a plan of separation was passed. Heated discussion throughout the church did not lead to a rapprochement and in 1845 the Methodist Episcopal church south was organized at Louisville, Kentucky.

While the two churches have been separate, holding their own conferences, they have exchanged fraternal delegates for many years, the bitterness that existed at the time of the separation soon cooled down and the relations between the two branches of the Methodist Episcopal have been marked by an increasing cordiality.

The announcement that the two branches of this church are likely to re-unite by the year 1925, shows that the leadership of the Methodist Episcopal church is alert to the growing demand of the public, that those branches of the Christian church that have most things in common get together. The laymen of the United States are more than ever convinced that the division of forces tends to waste effort and creates unwarranted expense. Any objections that are raised to plans for union or reunion of Christian denominations usually come from the officialdom which is interested in holding things as they are. Their objections are being swept away by the intelligent lay leadership of the church, and it will not be long until other churches follow the lead of the Methodist Episcopal church and begin to find grounds on which they may come together for the good of the church in general and the people whose interest the church exists to serve.

When the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south, have become one, there will be another evidence of the fact that the things which have kept them apart are not nearly so important as the many things which they shared in common and which finally outweighed the things that were divisive, and the influence of this reunion will be towards bringing other denominations to the same realization.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. W. H. FAWCETT ENTERTAIN

CAPTAIN and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett entertained the members of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association in such a hospitable and genial manner that they won the loyalty and affection of this body of newspaper men. The association voted to make Breezy Point the place where they will disport themselves on their next annual summer outing, and this was a very practical way of exercising the appreciation they felt.

Everything that has been gathered at Breezy Point for the comfort, convenience and amusement of tourists was placed at the disposal of the editors and their friends who enjoyed their outing to the full.

Breezy Point is splendidly located, the terrain is such that it lent itself to development, the buildings have been erected at a great cost and the grounds have been improved under the direction of Captain and Mrs. Fawcett who have found unusual pleasure in proving just how beautiful the shore line of Big Pelican lake can be made. But this is not all. Sometimes well-constructed resorts of splendid design are badly managed. Not so Breezy Point. One of the commendable things about this resort is that it is splendidly managed by Captain and Mrs. Fawcett, who combine the hospitable traits of both North and South, for while the good lady is from the sunny Southland the genial Captain is a northerner.

Brainerd has reason to appreciate what the Fawcetts have done at Breezy Point. The development of this resort, which is attracting hundreds of tourists each season, is bringing many through this city each year. Brainerd is receiving national advertising through the improvements that Captain and Mrs. Fawcett have made on the shores of Big Pelican lake. Brainerd wishes them well in their enterprise and congratulates them on their splendid hospitality. They did a splendid thing when they helped the organizations of this city to entertain the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, and they did it in a handsome way.

THE WORLD'S BEST HOPE

THE world's best hope at this time will be realized when France and England get together on the matter of reparations and the methods to be employed in dealing with Germany until these are paid. Because hopes have been blighted so often in the past few years it is hard to believe that the two nations are likely to get together, even though reports point to such a happy consummation.

It looks today as though the Cuno ministry in Germany must fall, and if that happens no one can confidently predict what will follow. There are two alternatives, either one of which may be chosen; one of these is communism and the other Kaiserism. There are rumors that many of the royalist party are visiting the Kaiser from time to time in his home at Doorn. If it should happen that French pressure brings about a return to a monarchical system of government and the militarists again assume control of the affairs of the empire, another chapter in the history of Europe will be written and it will be written in blood.

There may be a third alternative. The empire may break up into little states, but if this is the choice of the people of Germany at this time it is unlikely that they will be satisfied to remain long in such a condition. Unless the people lost their spirit and become docile and non-aggressive they will not relinquish their dreams of a strong nation.

The allies have but three alternatives, and France must choose one of these. The present policy in the Ruhr may be continued and the stranglehold on German industries extended; force may be used openly and deliberately, in an attempt to subdue the German people, by sending troops through Germany instead of using the military forces for purposes of blockade as at present; or the plan for a conference in which Germany may present her proposals to the allies must be accepted and a thorough discussion on the whole matter entertained. In the last of these three lies the world's best hope. This recommendation is not offered by the ministry in London alone; many months ago Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state of the United States, made an identical suggestion.

If the present policy in the Ruhr is pursued it must inevitably lead to anarchy, or to the restoration of the monarchy and a development of force until the best time to strike arrives once more in Europe's history. If military forces invade Germany and force the people into submission, after a feeble resistance has been offered to the invasion, the very thing for which France claimed to be fighting in the world war will have been repudiated by France herself, and if France attacks an enemy from whom she has exacted the weapons with which that enemy might fight, France will lose the respect of the world.

It is to be hoped that the United States, through the state department, will speak out on this question. This does not mean that a lot of publicity should be given to the attitude of the department at this time but that, through diplomatic channels, the secretary of state shall reaffirm his conviction that this question must be settled in conference and that the time to confer has arrived.

AMERICAN PRESIDENT VISITS CANADA

PRESIDENT HARDING must have found his visit on Dominion soil congenial. There is so much in common between the Dominion of Canada and the United States of America that points of contact might easily be made, and the president directed his attention to the underlying idea that is responsible for the peace and progress of these two countries, that is, the North American idea.

While the president's speech could not be termed great, containing nothing that is likely to lead to concrete developments in which the two countries shall work together for their mutual advantage, it breathed the spirit of friendship and invited Canada to pursue with the United States the spirit of independence while recognizing that the two countries bordering on each other are inter-dependent.

The president said nothing about the birth of the idea which is embodied in the constitutions of these nations. This North American idea was born centuries ago at the other side of the Atlantic. It is a fact, strange in the light of history, that the idea was first released in northern Germania. During the World war, Robert McNutt McElroy, professor of American history in Princeton University, wrote: "One of the saddest features of this war of the world is the fact that the German people are dying by thousands in an effort to check the spread of the grandest political idea ever produced—and one which they themselves originated."

Remembrance of the fact that the relations of Canada and Europe are so close that the people over the border appreciate the facts of the history of Europe, the president was not required to show that this idea had its genesis in northern Germania and sent the peasants of England into the present of King John with the demand for their Magna Charta. Because of this fact it was right that the president should speak as kindly as possible of the present attitudes of a part of the world that has released ideas that have found their noblest expression in the Western world.

The speech indicated that President Harding is alive to the solemn warning of the late Dr. James A. McDonald of the Toronto Globe who, in his book, "The North American Idea," said, "The North American Idea must fight for its life at all the fateful battle fronts of the world's mind."

The president's message will help to enlarge the friendship of two peoples who, though separate, may cooperate in setting a practical example to the world, by living and working in sympathy and without strife in the future as they have in the past.

park board, water and light board, Brainerd Municipal band, Julewood orchestra, Rotary and Lions clubs, Buxton, N. D. high school band, Sam Hawkins poultry farm, Evangelical Ladies Aid of Northeast Brainerd, State Game and Fish Commission.

At the luncheon tendered the Northern Minnesota Editorial association at the Ransford hotel Saturday noon, where The Northwest Paper company and the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association were hosts, Hon. H. P. Dunn presided, and the speakers included Mayor Con O'Brien, Col. C. D. Johnson, R. R. Wise, Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett of Breezy Point Lodge, John A. Hoffbauer chairman of publicity and conventions committee of the Civic & Commerce association, President E. H. Denu of the editorial association.

Mayor O'Brien referred to the courtesy shown by The Northwest Paper company and alluded to the visit at their plant. Col. C. D. Johnson gave one of his witty talks. R. R. Wise, president of the 10,000 Lakes Association, referred to the work of his organization and the extensive advertising carried on.

Captain Fawcett told a story based on his first speech making efforts in Los Angeles and on Alcatraz Island. Mrs. Fawcett was called on and said her first speech was being made right before the editorial association at the luncheon and she told a story that brought down the house.

President E. H. Denu of the editorial association and E. J. Coughlin of the Waseca Herald voiced their appreciation of courtesies shown them.

John A. Hoffbauer summarized the convention by stating it was planned from start to finish to be an outdoor meeting and a revelation to the editors of the resources of Brainerd and vicinity. Wednesday night they had been welcomed with almost every civic organization represented at the smoker given by the Brainerd Civic & Commerce association.

"Thursday we showed you the dairy industry, farming community, crops and poultry farm. And the corn, potatoes and oats certainly looked good. The roads impressed you. In the afternoon you visited the water system and the public parks."

"Friday you saw the Northern Pacific railway shops in operation and gained an idea of the immensity of this industrial plant, the many men employed, the payroll size, improved working conditions and many shop enlargements."

"Friday afternoon you had your memorable visit at Breezy Point Lodge. Saturday you saw the Northwest Paper company plant and will have your program at Tourist park, followed by the fish fry and dedication of the park."

"Your badges read Boost for Brainerd and Breezy Point. You know you are welcome. All we ask of you is to remember the contest staged by the Civic & Commerce Association which gives three prizes, $25, $15 and $10 for the best write-ups of the convention published. We want an expression of opinion from you, we want you to enter that contest. It is not limited to any newspaper in Minnesota. Any paper can enter, any trade publication."

The speaker lavished praise on Breezy Point and said that when he was on the board walk of Atlantic City, in the shadow of the Ambassador hotel, he heard Breezy Point of Big Pelican lake commented on. "But don't wait until the next convention to visit the Brainerd lake region. Breezy Point will be open in September. And then, when the nights are crisp, the air cool and invigorating, when your upkeep on tires and engine are low, when the festive mosquito has folded his wings and retired, when nature's foliage bursts out with the radiance of autumn, when hunting and fishing beckon you, pay us a return visit."

"In closing, let me mention that the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association and Captain Fawcett have been the pioneers in the movement to lengthen the resort season and it has been officially adopted by the 10,000 lakes association."

Heated discussion throughout the church did not lead to a rapprochement and in 1845 the Methodist Episcopal church south was organized at Louisville, Kentucky.

While the two churches have been separate, holding their own conferences, they have exchanged fraternal delegates for many years, the bitterness that existed at the time of the separation soon cooled down and the relations between the two branches of the Methodist Episcopal have been marked by an increasing cordiality.

The announcement that the two branches of this church are likely to re-unite by the year 1925, shows that the leadership of the Methodist Episcopal church is alert to the growing demand of the public, that those branches of the Christian church that have most things in common get together. The laymen of the United States are more than ever convinced that the division of forces tends to waste effort and creates unwarranted expense. Any objections that are raised to plans for union or reunion of Christian denominations usually come from the officialdom which is interested in holding things as they are. Their objections are being swept away by the intelligent lay leadership of the church, and it will not be long until other churches follow the lead of the Methodist Episcopal church and begin to find grounds on which they may come together for the good of the church in general and the people whose interest the church exists to serve.

When the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south, have become one, there will be another evidence of the fact that the things which have kept them apart are not nearly so important as the many things which they shared in common and which finally outweighed the things that were divisive, and the influence of this reunion will be towards bringing other denominations to the same realization.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. W. H. FAWCETT ENTERTAIN

CAPTAIN and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett entertained the members of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association in such a hospitable and genial manner that they won the loyalty and affection of this body of newspaper men. The association voted to make Breezy Point the place where they will disport themselves on their next annual summer outing, and this was a very practical way of exercising the appreciation they felt.

Everything that has been gathered at Breezy Point for the comfort, convenience and amusement of tourists was placed at the disposal of the editors and their friends who enjoyed their outing to the full.

Breezy Point is splendidly located, the terrain is such that it lent itself to development, the buildings have been erected at a great cost and the grounds have been improved under the direction of Captain and Mrs. Fawcett who have found unusual pleasure in proving just how beautiful the shore line of Big Pelican lake can be made. But this is not all. Sometimes well-constructed resorts of splendid design are badly managed. Not so Breezy Point. One of the commendable things about this resort is that it is splendidly managed by Captain and Mrs. Fawcett, who combine the hospitable traits of both North and South, for while the good lady is from the sunny Southland the genial Captain is a northerner.

Brainerd has reason to appreciate what the Fawcetts have done at Breezy Point. The development of this resort, which is attracting hundreds of tourists each season, is bringing many through this city each year. Brainerd is receiving national advertising through the improvements that Captain and Mrs. Fawcett have made on the shores of Big Pelican lake. Brainerd wishes them well in their enterprise and congratulates them on their splendid hospitality. They did a splendid thing when they helped the organizations of this city to entertain the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, and they did it in a handsome way.

THE WORLD'S BEST HOPE

THE world's best hope at this time will be realized when France and England get together on the matter of reparations and the methods to be employed in dealing with Germany until these are paid. Because hopes have been blighted so often in the past few years it is hard to believe that the two nations are likely to get together, even though reports point to such a happy consummation.

It looks today as though the Cuno ministry in Germany must fall, and if that happens no one can confidently predict what will follow. There are two alternatives, either one of which may be chosen; one of these is communism and the other Kaiserism. There are rumors that many of the royalist party are visiting the Kaiser from time to time in his home at Doorn. If it should happen that French pressure brings about a return to a monarchical system of government and the militarists again assume control of the affairs of the empire, another chapter in the history of Europe will be written and it will be written in blood.

There may be a third alternative. The empire may break up into little states, but if this is the choice of the people of Germany at this time it is unlikely that they will be satisfied to remain long in such a condition. Unless the people lost their spirit and become docile and non-aggressive they will not relinquish their dreams of a strong nation.

The allies have but three alternatives, and France must choose one of these. The present policy in the Ruhr may be continued and the strangle-hold on German industries extended; force may be used openly and deliberately, in an attempt to subdue the German people, by sending troops through Germany instead of using the military forces for purposes of blockade as at present; or the plan for a conference in which Germany may present her proposals to the allies must be accepted and a thorough discussion on the whole matter entertained. In the last of these three lies the world's best hope. This recommendation is not offered by the ministry in London alone; many months ago Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state of the United States, made an identical suggestion.

If the present policy in the Ruhr is pursued it must inevitably lead to anarchy, or to the restoration of the monarchy and a development of force until the best time to strike arrives once more in Europe's history. If military forces invade Germany and force the people into submission, after a feeble resistance has been offered to the invasion, the very thing for which France claimed to be fighting in the world war will have been repudiated by France herself, and if France attacks an enemy from whom she has exacted the weapons with which that enemy might fight, France will lose the respect of the world.

It is to be hoped that the United States, through the state department, will speak out on this question. This does not mean that a lot of publicity should be given to the attitude of the department at this time but that, through diplomatic channels, the secretary of state shall reaffirm his conviction that this question must be settled in conference and that the time to confer has arrived.

AMERICAN PRESIDENT VISITS CANADA

PRESIDENT HARDING must have found his visit on Dominion soil congenial. There is so much in common between the Dominion of Canada and the United States of America that points of contact might easily be made, and the president directed his attention to the underlying idea that is responsible for the peace and progress of these two countries, that is, the North American idea.

While the president's speech could not be termed great, containing nothing that is likely to lead to concrete developments in which the two countries shall work together for their mutual advantage, it breathed the spirit of friendship and invited Canada to pursue with the United States the spirit of independence while recognizing that the two countries bordering on each other are inter-dependent.

The president said nothing about the birth of the idea which is embodied in the constitutions of these nations. This North American idea was born centuries ago at the other side of the Atlantic. It is a fact, strange in the light of history, that the idea was first released in northern Germania. During the World war, Robert McNutt McElroy, professor of American history in Princeton University, wrote: "One of the saddest features of this war of the world is the fact that the German people are dying by thousands in an effort to check the spread of the grandest political idea ever produced—and one which they themselves originated."

Remembrance of the fact that the relations of Canada and Europe are so close that the people over the border appreciate the facts of the history of Europe, the president was not required to show that this idea had its genesis in northern Germania and sent the peasants of England into the present of King John with the demand for their Magna Charta. Because of this fact it was right that the president should speak as kindly as possible of the present attitudes of a part of the world that has released ideas that have found their noblest expression in the Western world.

The speech indicated that President Harding is alive to the solemn warning of the late Dr. James A. McDonald of the Toronto Globe who, in his book, "The North American Idea," said, "The North American Idea must fight for its life at all the fateful battle fronts of the world's mind."

The president's message will help to enlarge the friendship of two peoples who, though separate, may cooperate in setting a practical example to the world, by living and working in sympathy and without strife in the future as they have in the past.

park board, water and light board, Brainerd Municipal band, Julewood orchestra, Rotary and Lions clubs, Buxton, N. D. high school band, Sam Hawkins poultry farm, Evangelical Ladies Aid of Northeast Brainerd, State Game and Fish Commission.

At the luncheon tendered the Northern Minnesota Editorial association at the Ransford hotel Saturday noon, where The Northwest Paper company and the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association were hosts. Hon. H. P. Dunn presided, and the speakers included Mayor Con O'Brien, Col. C. D. Johnson, R. R. Wise, Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett of Breezy Point Lodge, John A. Hoffbauer chairman of publicity and conventions committee of the Civic & Commerce association, President E. H. Denu of the editorial association.

Mayor O'Brien referred to the courtesy shown by The Northwest Paper company and alluded to the visit at their plant. Col. C. D. Johnson gave one of his witty talks. R. R. Wise, president of the 10,000 Lakes Association, referred to the work of his organization and the extensive advertising carried on.

Captain Fawcett told a story based on his first speech making efforts in Los Angeles and on Alcatraz Island. Mrs. Fawcett was called on and said her first speech was being made right before the editorial association at the luncheon and she told a story that brought down the house.

President E. H. Denu of the editorial association and E. J. Coughlin of the Waseca Herald voiced their appreciation of courtesies shown them.

John A. Hoffbauer summarized the convention by stating it was planned from start to finish to be an outdoor meeting and a revelation to the editors of the resources of Brainerd and vicinity. Wednesday night they had been welcomed with almost every civic organization represented at the smoker given by the Brainerd Civic & Commerce association.

"Thursday we showed you the dairy industry, farming community, crops and poultry farm. And the corn, potatoes and oats certainly looked good. The roads impressed you. In the afternoon you visited the water system and the public parks."

"Friday you saw the Northern Pacific railway shops in operation and gained an idea of the immensity of this industrial plant, the many men employed, the payroll size, improved working conditions and many shop enlargements."

"Friday afternoon you had your memorable visit at Breezy Point Lodge. Saturday you saw the Northwest Paper company plant and will have your program at Tourist park, followed by the fish fry and dedication of the park."

"Your badges read Boost for Brainerd and Breezy Point. You know you are welcome. All we ask of you is to remember the contest staged by the Civic & Commerce Association which gives three prizes, $25, $15 and $10 for the best write-ups of the convention published. We want an expression of opinion from you, we want you to enter that contest. It is not limited to any newspaper in Minnesota. Any paper can enter, any trade publication."

The speaker lavished praise on Breezy Point and said that when he was on the board walk of Atlantic City, in the shadow of the Ambassador hotel, he heard Breezy Point of Big Pelican lake commented on.

"But don't wait until the next convention to visit the Brainerd lake region. Breezy Point will be open in September. And then, when the nights are crisp, the air cool and invigorating, when your upkeep on tires and engine are low, when the festive mosquito has folded his wings and retired, when nature's foliage bursts out with the radiance of autumn, when hunting and fishing beckon you, pay us a return visit."

"In closing, let me mention that the Brainerd Civic & Commerce Association and Captain Fawcett have been the pioneers in the movement to lengthen the resort season and it has been officially adopted by the 10,000 lakes association."

lake and had as their guests of honor, the retiring and the incoming postmaster. They presented Mr. Dunn with a solid gold Elks' ring. Appropriate addresses were made and Mr. Dunn was so taken by surprise that for a time he could not speak.

Brainerd has learned to love Mr. Dunn for his kindly, thoughtful attention to the citizens and admires him for the record he made in the postmastership.

The incoming postmaster, Carl Adams, has had experience in teaching, in business management as an executive of many lumber yards and in addition has a most commendable war record.

Knowing the successful record achieved by Mr. Dunn, he is desirous of emulating the latter's good example. His aim, said he, will ever be to conduct the office on a business like basis, exemplifying courtesy and kindness. Mr. Adams was also at the picnic and there met with the employees who will soon be under his direction.

BRAINERD FRUIT COMPANY PICNIC

Employees and Employers Have Annual Picnic Saturday at Grand View Lodge

HAD HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT

Launch Rides, Water Sports, Wonderful Eats, Company Heads Present at Festivities

Employees of the Brainerd Fruit Company enjoyed their annual picnic on Saturday at Grand View lodge. "A wonderful day and a wonder time" is the way they characterize the event.

The company's big truck, loaded with merry-makers and provisions for the outing, left the city at 10:30 Saturday morning. Dinner was the first order of the day, and what a spread! Everyone ate until they could eat no more. Delicacies of every description were provided, and ample justice done to them all.

A horseshoe tournament followed the dinner. The married ladies won from their single sisters, and the men staged an elimination contest in which Mr. Bailey of Minneapolis carried away the laurels.

Dick Parks' launch took the picnickers on a trip around Gull lake, a stop being made at Rocky Point for an inspection tour of that popular resort. The entire trip consumed two and one-half hours.

In the water sport which followed, Manager A. C. Elert distinguished himself as a high diver of some note, making the plunge from the top of a 25 foot tower a number of times.

The day's festivities closed with a supper, which was, in every way the equal of the noon meal.

Guests at the picnic were George C. Sherman and wife and Charles Bailey and mother, all of Minneapolis. Mr. Sherman is vice president and Mr. Bailey manager, of the S. G. Palmer Fruit Co.

This is the first time that they have been to the Minnesota lake region, and they expressed themselves as most favorably impressed with the playground facilities.

Mr. Elert escorted his visitors to the different parks in Brainerd, and to the local tourist camp grounds. Mr. Sherman, who has traveled extensively, stated that he has seen nothing which in any way compares to the accommodations Brainerd extends to the tourists.

The question of the hour, among the employees of the local fruit company, is: "When do we have the next picnic?" They feel that they should like to have the date set now for next year's outing.

Popular Young Couple of Crosby Are Married

Crosby, Minn., July 30—Miss Olga J. Anderson and Samuel J. Sparks were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson, Rev. Erlander of Deerwood performing the ceremony. The young couple left to make their home in Minneapolis.

The bride is a graduate of Crosby school and lived here when the present site of Crosby was a farm. Both the young people are very popular among their associates.

JUVENILE ENTERTAINERS

Wright Kids and Kearns Kids Have Fine Act at the New Park Theatre

Much credit is due Mrs. Wright, director of the Wright Kids and the Kearns Twins, for the successful manner in which these juvenile entertainers put over their act at the New Park theatre Saturday and Sunday. The children took their audiences by storm and through their clever acting, won their way into the hearts of all who heard them.

Among the numbers which deserve special mention were the Kearns Twins in their "Hick" number, the "Baby Sister Blues" sung by the Wrights, and the little nine-year-old vamp, who would have made Theda Bara green with envy.

Kathern McDonald, one of the Wright Kids, is a former Brainerd Miss, and a niece of Clyde McDonald of Northeast Brainerd.

CURFEW NOTICE

Curfew law violators will be dealt with according to city ordinance No. 125, and all children under sixteen years of age must be off the streets, alleys or public grounds of the city of Brainerd before nine o'clock, P. M. Parents are requested to read and explain the above to all children who are in the habit of frequenting the streets after 9 P. M.

The following article is taken from the Athol Transcript, Athol, Mass., July 24th issue:

"An automobile owned and driven by Dr. A. K. Cohen of Brainerd, Minnesota, collided with an electric car of the Athol and Orange lines, about 5:15 Friday, (July 20th) at the western approach of the new Main street bridge.

"In the car beside Dr. Cohen were Mrs. Cohen and their five-year-old son. The windshield of the car was broken and the boy was thrown partly through it, and cut about the head. His father attended him.

"The front of the car was also badly damaged, and it was towed to the Cass garage for repairs."

This article was handed to the Dispatch through the courtesy of W. A. M. Johnstone, H. H. Barber, a

The company's big truck, loaded with merry-makers and provisions for the outing, left the city at 10:30 Saturday morning. Dinner was the first order of the day, and what a spread! Everyone ate until they could eat no more. Delicacies of every description were provided, and ample justice done to them all.

A horseshoe tournament followed the dinner. The married ladies won from their single sisters, and the men staged an elimination contest in which Mr. Bailey of Minneapolis carried away the laurels.

Dick Parks' launch took the picnickers on a trip around Gull lake, a stop being made at Rocky Point for an inspection tour of that popular resort. The entire trip consumed two and one-half hours.

In the water sports which followed, Manager A. C. Ebert distinguished himself as a high diver of some note, making the plunge from the top of a 25 foot tower a number of times.

The day's festivities closed with a supper, which was, in every way the equal of the noon meal.

Guests at the picnic were George C. Sherman and wife and Charles Bailey and mother, all of Minneapolis. Mr. Sherman is vice president and Mr. Bailey manager of the S. G. Palmer Fruit Co.

This is the first time that they have been to the Minnesota lake region, and they expressed themselves as most favorably impressed with the playground facilities.

Mr. Ebert escorted his visitors to the different parks in Brainerd, and to the local tourist camp grounds. Mr. Sherman, who has traveled extensively, stated that he has seen nothing which in any way compares to the accommodations Brainerd extends to the tourists.

The question of the hour, among the employees of the local fruit company, is: "When do we have the next picnic?" They feel that they should like to have the date set now for next year's outing.

Popular Young Couple of Crosby Are Married

Crosby, Minn., July 30—Miss Olga J. Anderson and Samuel J. Sparks were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson, Rev. Erlander of Deerwood performing the ceremony. The young couple left to make their home in Minneapolis.

The bride is a graduate of Crosby school and lived here when the present site of Crosby was a farm. Both the young people are very popular among their associates.

JUVENILE ENTERTAINERS

Wright Kids and Kearns Kids Have Fine Act at the New Park Theatre

Much credit is due Mrs. Wright, director of the Wright Kids and the Kearns Twins, for the successful manner in which these juvenile entertainers put over their act at the New Park theatre Saturday and Sunday. The children took their audiences by storm and through their clever acting, won their way into the hearts of all who heard them.

Among the numbers which deserve special mention were the Kearns Twins in their "Hick" number, the "Baby Sister Blues" sung by the Wrights, and the little nine-year-old vamp, who would have made Theda Bara green with envy.

Kathern McDonald, one of the Wright Kids, is a former Brainerd Miss, and a niece of Clyde McDonald of Northeast Brainerd.

CURFEW NOTICE

Curfew law violators will be dealt with according to city ordinance No. 125, and all children under sixteen years of age must be off the streets, alleys or public grounds of the city of Brainerd before nine o'clock, P. M. Parents are requested to read and explain the above to all children who are in the habit of frequenting the streets after 9 P. M.

GAME MEN IN GOLF, BOXING, TENNIS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, July 30.—Bobby Jones, young Atlantic golfer, is one of the best examples of pluck, patience and persistence to be found on the entire list of sport's star athletes.

It took 21-year-old Bobby just seven years to rise to the height of golf when he won the American national open championship, one of the great prizes that the game offers.

When he was a 14-year-old boy, it was too much to expect that he would win a national championship. When he was 16 the job was still too heavy for such youthful shoulders, but when he came to 19 it was expected that he should begin to deliver.

Many theories were advanced when he failed to live up to the reputation that he had established as the "boy wonder" of golf. He was said to have been retarded by the adulation he received in his kid days; it was suggested that he had too much temperament to become a champion, and finally it was intimated that he didn't have the "heart" to get "out of the rough" that is on the course of every championship.

No greater test of his courage could have been asked than that which he faced when he was forced to play off a tie for the championship at Inwood. Where he failed previously on the last hole, causing some to sniff that he couldn't "carry weight," he rose to the heights of brilliance in the last hole of the crucial test and won from an opponent whose gameness never had been questioned.

Perhaps nothing that is attached to the open title came up to the joy that was his when he was able to show that he had the heart and the game of a real champion.

Another great athlete who vindicated himself recently was Tommy Gibbons, and he had to do something that no other boxer had done to show that he too had a great heart.

Gibbons had to stay fifteen rounds with Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, under odds that would have made the stoutest of hearts waver, to show some of the eastern wise men that he had at least the heart of a champion.

When experts' opinions were being expressed after the Dempsey-Gibbons match had been made, many of the trained experts said that Gibbons could not last more than a few rounds. They granted that he had the technical qualifications of a fine boxer and a heavy hitter, but that he could not stand rough going.

Gibbons had never met anything but set-ups, it was pointed out, and when he went up against Harry Greb, his timid heart made him step back several times when it looked like a little more aggressiveness might have given him a knockout victory.

Gibbons was sick the last time he fought Greb, but he did not advertise it and he did not alibi. He had an abscess in one of his front teeth when he fought Dempsey, but he said nothing about that.

The only thing he did do was to go in and stay fifteen rounds under punishment that at times almost hurt the spectators.

No other light heavyweight in the game would have consented to fight Dempsey under straight rules. Few heavyweights would do the same thing, but Gibbons accepted the rules and a hand-picked referee without a grumble or a protest.

Tommy Gibbons may not be listed on the record books when he gets through as "one of the best fighters," but he certainly will be listed as a game fighter.

During the recent clay court championships, Bill Tilden, the greatest of them all, protested about the conduct of the gallery during one of his matches.

Some comment suggested that no game man would allow the crowd to bother him.

Tilden's objections were on purely ethical grounds. It is considered very poor etiquette for a tennis gallery to applaud a champion's errors and much worse to make any kind of a demonstration while a point is being played.

There is no game player on the court than Bill Tilden, and there is no finer sportsman, or none who has done more for tennis.

While Tilden was playing Norton, three years ago at Wimbledon, the crowd was decidedly pro-Norton, and it applauded every point he made, but Tilden never opened his mouth.

British galleries, schooled in etiquette, applauded after the point had been made, and Tilden accepted that as being proper.

LEWIS CAN'T FIND HIS SIZE IN PARIS COLLAR EMPORIUMS

Paris, July 30.—Strangler Lewis' trip to Germany was delayed 24 hours today when his laundry failed to return to his hotel. The wrestler was unable to buy a collar or a shirt large enough to fit him in Paris.

Lewis wears a 20 collar and a 19 shirt. The biggest of the shops here have is 17. The wrestler is proceeding to Berlin today.

ALBERT LEA TEAM WILL INVADE IOWA

Albert Lea, July 30.—On Tuesday the local baseball club will go to Bay-side, Clear Lake, Iowa, to play the Cubs on their home field. Albert Lea has won four straight games from the Cubs this season, all of them by close scores. The Cubs were eliminated in the recent baseball tournament here by a score of 14 to 12. Thursday the Adams and Albert Lea teams will meet on the home field in a postponed league game. Johnson will be on the mound for Adams. He already has two victories to his credit over the Albert Lea team.

CHRIS DOES GREAT BUSINESS IN GAME CLUB MEMBERSHIP

Fairmont, July 30.—A sensation was created at a meeting here of the Martin County Bird, Fish and Game Protective league when Chris Tomsen, long interested in fish and game conservation, turned in a list of 63 new members obtained by him at $5 each. This raises the membership from about 90 to more than 150.

THREE PLAY FOR "U" TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Minneapolis, July 30.—Keen competition is being evidenced in the men's tennis tournament at the University of Minnesota summer school. Walter R. Smith, athletic instructor, is in charge of the tournament.

In matches played yesterday on Northrop field Henry Haines defeated William Bubbers 6-2, 6-1. Moodhe walked away with Everett Heilman in a match which ended 6-2, 6-0, and R. Crowell triumphed over J. T. Kessler 6-2, 6-3.

The finals between Haines, Moodhe and Crowell will be played off at 3 tomorrow at Northrop field.

'Bill' Tilden Hands Pola Negri Tennis Cup; Hollywood Gasps

Hollywood, Calif., July 30.—Hollywood society gasped today at the apparent confirmation of William Tilden's attachment for Pola Negri, Polish movie star, when Tilden, after winning the tennis cup, stepped to the box occupied by Pola and presented it to her.

The two chatted for some time before the matches started and when Tilden took the court, Pola said: "I hope Mr. Tilden wins."

When asked her reason, she blushed and said: "Oh, because he is an American, and Americans, they have been so kind to me. Of course, I am very interested in Mr. Alonzo's playing, too."

Between sets Tilden visited with Pola. Tilden gave the winning racquet to Douglas Fairbanks.

After Tilden returned to the clubhouse, the Polish star told reporters: "Please do not ask me embarrassing questions. Of course I admire Mr. Tilden very much. He is a wonderful tennis player and a splendid gentleman."

Later, Tilden, after winning the mixed doubles with May Sutton Bundy, promptly left the former world's woman champion standing in the court to go over to shake hands with Miss Negri.

Miss Negri and Tilden left the court shortly afterward, but drove away in separate automobiles.

ST. LOUIS, CLEVELAND DULUTH IN PRO LOOPS

Chicago, July 30.—Representatives of 20 clubs attending the annual meeting here today and tomorrow of the National Football league, at the opening session voted to grant franchises to St. Louis, Duluth and Cleveland teams.

Drafting a schedule of games and a discussion of the signing of players was the principal business of the meeting.

President Joe F. Carr announced that the league season would open the first Sunday in October and close the second Sunday in December.

Former Champion Leads In Women's Golf Meet

Milwaukee, July 27.—Miss Frances Hadfield, former champion of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association, leads the field in the western women's invitation golf tournament at the Milwaukee Country club here with a score of 182 after 36 holes. She shot 91 Tuesday and came back with the same count yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Klotz, Chicago, who led the field Tuesday, with an 87, found the going rather hard yesterday and turned in 97 for the second round, giving her a total of 184 and placing her in third place. Mrs. Melvin Jones, former champion of the Western Women Golf association, is second with 183. She shot 90 on Tuesday and 93 yesterday.

FRENCH AND SPANISH CUP GAMES POSTPONED

Deauville, France, July 30.—While the French and Spanish teams were playing the final round of the European eliminations for the Davis cup tournament, rain fell here today and stopped the matches. Lacoste, the French schoolboy, was leading Count de Gomar, the Spaniard, two sets to one and four games to one in the fourth when the match had to be postponed. Play will be resumed tomorrow.

Tapoca From Poison Root.

Few people who enjoy tapoca pudding realize that they are eating a product of the poisonous cassava root. In its natural state this root is extremely bitter and harmful because of the hydrocyanic acid that it contains, but when heated it becomes palatable and its poisonous qualities are readily dissipated.—Popular Science Monthly.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advt.

Hiring a New Office Boy

THE ideal business organization is one where, when a member of the Board of Directors leaves, there is a general advance all along the line; a new office boy is hired and the machine is complete in every detail.

It is toward such an ideal that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is striving.

In the selection of employees great care is taken to get young men who may be developed for positions of responsibility and trust. The results of this policy are to be seen by taking a careful check of the higher officers of this Company. Every one of these men has come up through the ranks, many from the lowliest beginning. They have won preferment by unusual fitness, by sheer ability and mastery of the particular work entrusted to their care.

It is this spirit of pure democracy which has made the organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) what it is today—a big, loyal, hard-working group of men and women, bound together by mutual consideration, respect and ambition.

The men in the ranks of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have constantly before them the examples of those now directing the Company's activities. They know that there is an open road ahead, and that for the men who show unusual aptitude in any department of the business; unusual ability to vision the future, or to direct the immediate, there are no limitations placed upon advancement. Such men taken from the ranks, will be the directing heads a few years hence.

This spirit, permeating every employee from the top to the bottom, keys the entire organization to a pitch of efficiency which enables the Company to render a superior service to 30 million people of the middle west.

New York, July 30.—Bobby Jones, young Atlantic golfer, is one of the best examples of pluck, patience and persistence to be found on the entire list of sport's star athletes.

It took 21-year-old Bobby just seven years to rise to the height of golf when he won the American national open championship, one of the great prizes that the game offers.

When he was a 14-year-old boy, it was too much to expect that he would win a national championship. When he was 16 the job was still too heavy for such youthful shoulders, but when he came to 19 it was expected that he should begin to deliver.

Many theories were advanced when he failed to live up to the reputation that he had established as the "boy wonder" of golf. He was said to have been retarded by the adulation he received in his kid days; it was suggested that he had too much temperament to become a champion, and finally it was intimated that he didn't have the "heart" to get "out of the rough" that is on the course of every championship.

No greater test of his courage could have been asked than that which he faced when he was forced to play off a tie for the championship at Inwood. Where he failed previously on the last hole, causing some to sniff that he couldn't "carry weight," he rose to the heights of brilliance in the last hole of the crucial test and won from an opponent whose gameness never had been questioned.

Perhaps nothing that is attached to the open title came up to the joy that was his when he was able to show that he had the heart and the game of a real champion.

Another great athlete who vindicated himself recently was Tommy Gibbons, and he had to do something that no other boxer had done to show that he too had a great heart.

Gibbons had to stay fifteen rounds with Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, under odds that would have made the stoutest of hearts waver, to show some of the eastern wise men that he had at least the heart of a champion.

When experts' opinions were being expressed after the Dempsey-Gibbons match had been made, many of the trained experts said that Gibbons could not last more than a few rounds. They granted that he had the technical qualifications of a fine boxer and a heavy hitter, but that he could not stand rough going.

Gibbons had never met anything but set-ups, it was pointed out, and when he went up against Harry Greb, his timid heart made him step back several times when it looked like a little more aggressiveness might have given him a knockout victory.

Gibbons was sick the last time he fought Greb, but he did not advertise it and he did not alibi. He had an abscess in one of his front teeth when he fought Dempsey, but he said nothing about that.

The only thing he did do was to go in and stay fifteen rounds under punishment that at times almost hurt the spectators.

No other light heavyweight in the game would have consented to fight Dempsey under straight rules. Few heavyweights would do the same thing, but Gibbons accepted the rules and a hand-picked referee without a grumble or a protest.

Tommy Gibbons may not be listed on the record books when he gets through as "one of the best fighters," but he certainly will be listed as a game fighter.

During the recent clay court championships, Bill Tilden, the greatest of them all, protested about the conduct of the gallery during one of his matches.

Some comment suggested that no game man would allow the crowd to bother him.

Tilden's objections were on purely ethical grounds. It is considered very poor etiquette for a tennis gallery to applaud a champion's errors and much worse to make any kind of a demonstration while a point is being played.

There is no gamer player on the court than Bill Tilden, and there is no finer sportsman, or none who has done more for tennis.

While Tilden was playing Norton, three years ago at Wimbledon, the crowd was decidedly pro-Norton, and it applauded every point he made, but Tilden never opened his mouth.

British galleries, schooled in etiquette, applauded after the point had been made, and Tilden accepted that as being proper.

LEWIS CAN'T FIND HIS SIZE IN PARIS COLLAR EMPORIUMS

Paris, July 30.—Strangler Lewis' trip to Germany was delayed 24 hours today when his laundry failed to return to his hotel. The wrestler was unable to buy a collar or a shirt large enough to fit him in Paris.

Lewis wears a 20 collar and a 19 shirt. The biggest the shops here have is 17. The wrestler is proceeding to Berlin today.

ALBERT LEA TEAM WILL INVADE IOWA

Albert Lea, July 30.—On Tuesday the local baseball club will go to Bay-side, Clear Lake, Iowa, to play the Cubs on their home field. Albert Lea has won four straight games from the Cubs this season, all of them by close scores. The Cubs were eliminated in the recent baseball tournament here by a score of 14 to 12. Thursday the Adams and Albert Lea teams will meet on the home field in a postponed league game. Johnson will be on the mound for Adams. He already has two victories to his credit over the Albert Lea team.

CHRIS DOES GREAT BUSINESS IN GAME CLUB MEMBERSHIP

Fairmont, July 30.—A sensation was created at a meeting here of the Martin County Bird, Fish and Game Protective league when Chris Tomsen, long interested in fish and game conservation, turned in a list of 63 new members obtained by him at $5 each. This raises the membership from about 90 to more than 150.

THREE PLAY FOR "U" TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Minneapolis, July 30.—Keen competition is being evidenced in the men's tennis tournament at the University of Minnesota summer school. Walter R. Smith, athletic instructor, is in charge of the tournament.

In matches played yesterday on Northrop field Henry Haines defeated William Bubbers 6-2, 6-1. Moodie walked away with Everett Hellman in a match which ended 6-2, 6-0, and R. Crowell triumphed over J. T. Kessler 6-2, 6-3.

The finals between Haines, Moodie and Crowell will be played off at 3 tomorrow at Northrop field.

'Bill' Tilden Hands Pola Negri Tennis Cup; Hollywood Gasps

Hollywood, Calif., July 30.—Hollywood society gasped today at the apparent confirmation of William Tilden's attachment for Pola Negri, Polish movie star, when Tilden, after winning the tennis cup, stepped to the box occupied by Pola and presented it to her.

The two chatted for some time before the matches started and when Tilden took the court, Pola said: "I hope Mr. Tilden wins."

When asked her reason, she blushed and said: "Oh, because he is an American, and Americans, they have been so kind to me. Of course, I am very interested in Mr. Alonzo's playing, too."

Between sets Tilden visited with Pola.

Tilden gave the winning racquet to Douglas Fairbanks.

After Tilden returned to the clubhouse, the Polish star told reporters: "Please do not ask me embarrassing questions. Of course I admire Mr. Tilden very much. He is a wonderful tennis player and a splendid gentleman."

Later, Tilden, after winning the mixed doubles with May Sutton Bundy, promptly left the former world's woman champion standing in the court to go over to shake hands with Miss Negri.

Miss Negri and Tilden left the court shortly afterward, but drove away in separate automobiles.

ST. LOUIS, CLEVELAND DULUTH IN PRO LOOPS

Chicago, July 30.—Representatives of 20 clubs attending the annual meeting here today and tomorrow of the National Football league, at the opening session voted to grant franchises to St. Louis, Duluth and Cleveland teams.

Drafting a schedule of games and a discussion of the signing of players was the principal business of the meeting.

President Joe F. Carr announced that the league season would open the first Sunday in October and close the second Sunday in December.

Former Champion Leads In Women's Golf Meet

Milwaukee, July 27.—Miss Frances Hadfield, former champion of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association, leads the field in the western women's invitation golf tournament at the Milwaukee Country club here with a score of 182 after 36 holes. She shot 91 Tuesday and came back with the same count yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Klotz, Chicago, who led the field Tuesday, with an 87, found the going rather hard yesterday and turned in 97 for the second round, giving her a total of 184 and placing her in third place. Mrs. Melvin Jones, former champion of the Western Women Golf association, is second with 183. She shot 90 on Tuesday and 93 yesterday.

FRENCH AND SPANISH CUP GAMES POSTPONED

Deauville, France, July 30.—While the French and Spanish teams were playing the final round of the European eliminations for the Davis cup tournament, rain fell here today and stopped the matches. Lacoste, the French schoolboy, was leading Count de Gomar, the Spaniard, two sets to one and four games to one in the fourth when the match had to be postponed. Play will be resumed tomorrow.

Tapioca From Poison Root.

Few people who enjoy tapioca pudding realize that they are eating a product of the poisonous cassava root. In its natural state this root is extremely bitter and harmful because of the hydrocyanic acid that it contains, but when heated it becomes palatable and its poisonous qualities are readily dissipated.—Popular Science Monthly.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advt.
